

I totally support RM-10867, I became a Ham (KE6JEF) 10 years ago and will NEVER use Code. I think code is just a way to restrict CB'ers from becoming Hams. Make the test harder to get a license but eliminate the Code except for Advanced or Extra licenses and more people will join us. This should be a Hobby that is fun, not a painfull challenge full of frustration. I have never upgraded to General Only because I hate Code. I can't wait for you to pass RM-10869 so I can AT LAST join in the HF portion of my hobby.
